CSANZ
Cardiac Society of Australia and New Zealand

APSC Emerging Leaders Programme – Seoul 19-22 Oct 2022

The Asia Pacific Society of Cardiology (ASPC) has invited CSANZ to nominate an outstanding mid-career physician member to participate in the APSC Fondazione Internazionale Menarini Emerging Leaders Scholarship Programme to be held in Seoul, Korea from 19-22 October 2022.

The two-day program focuses on the qualities of being an effective leader, the importance of team building and everyday issues future leaders face. The successful nominee will be required to do a 5-minute presentation on the current issues and challenges faced in Australia or New Zealand and participate actively in group discussions. There will be close interaction with world experts who will be present to share their journey and mentor participants.

The programme schedule is:

19 October 2022 Arrive Seoul, Welcome Reception
20 October 2022 Full Day Programme, Dinner
21 October 2022 Full Day Programme
22 October 2022 Depart Seoul

The APSC will provide the CSANZ nominee:
Economy class travel
Up to three nights' accommodation (19 to 22 October 2022)
Return airport transfers (in Seoul)

Eligibility
Current CSANZ Member
Mid-career doctor aged between 35-45
Has not attended the APSC Emerging Leaders Programme before

How to apply
To be considered for this prestigious opportunity, please send a covering letter outlining your career achievements and why you should be considered for the APSC Emerging Leaders Programme. Please include a copy of your CV and the names of two referees.

The deadline to submit your application is short, please send to Martha McCall email: martha.mccall@csanz.edu.au no later than Tuesday, 14 June, 2022.